

Using PLAN with Chapter 1 of 7th/8th grade social studies text, The American Nation

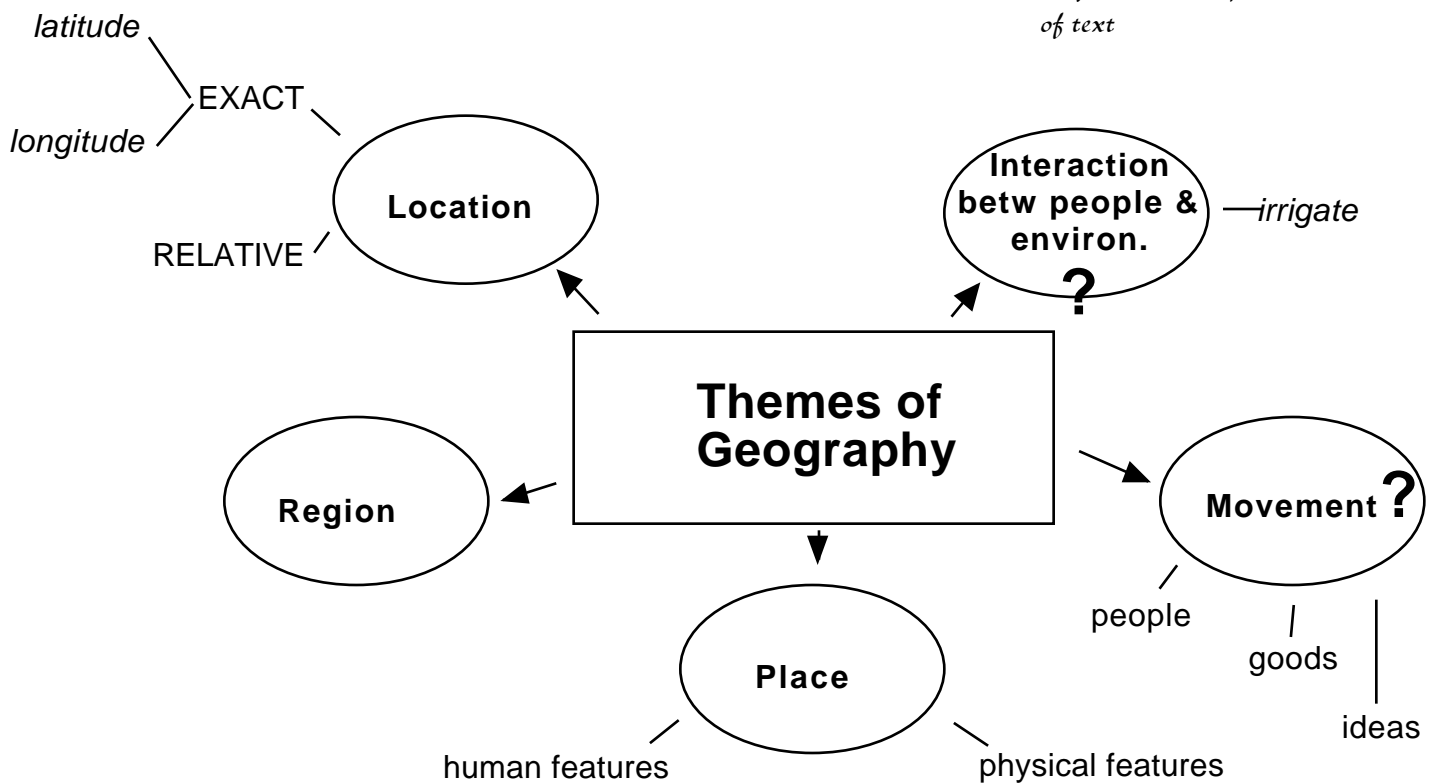

Predict

students pre-read: they predict the content and structure of the text using major headings and subheadings as well as bold-face terms

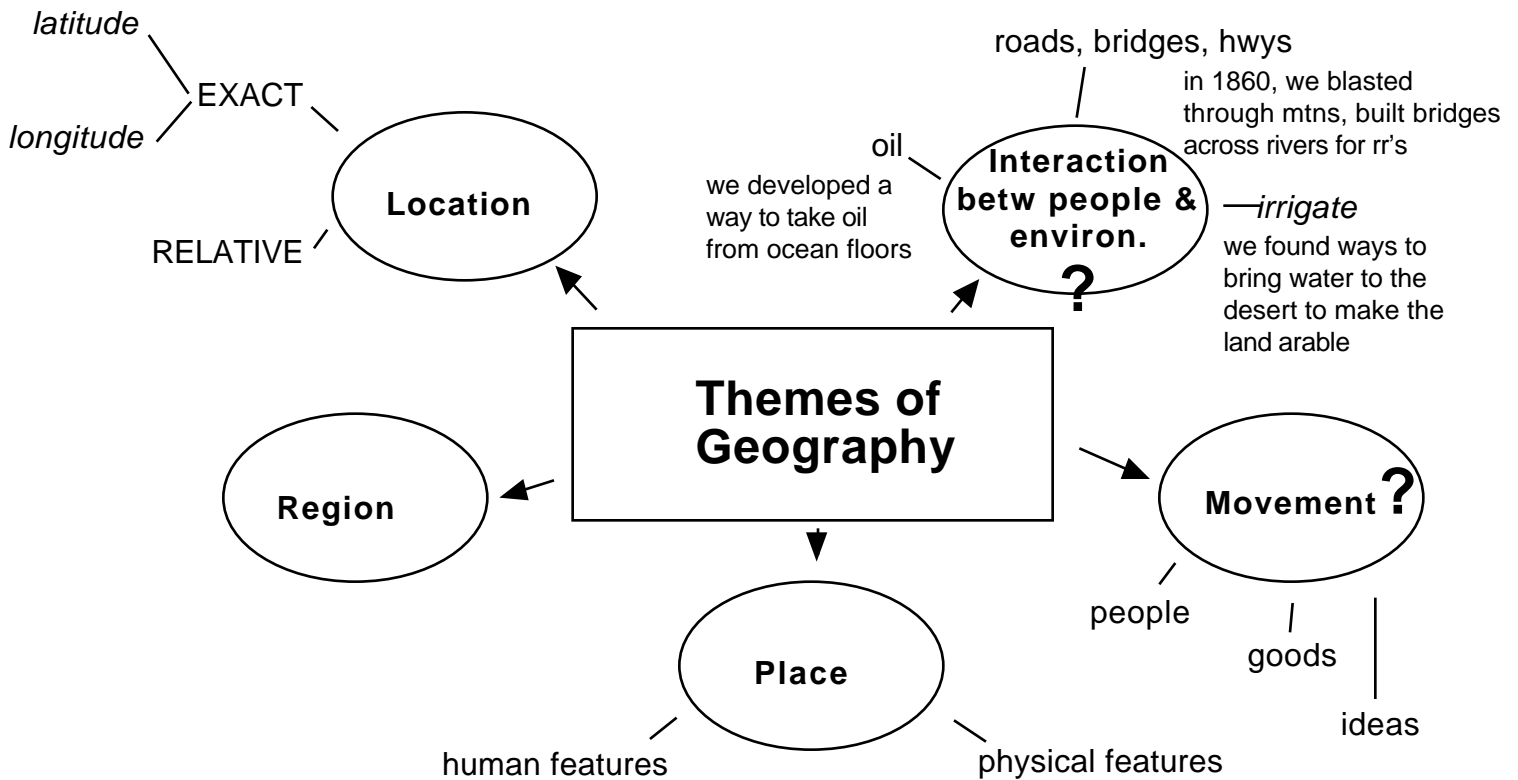

Locate

students assess prior knowledge: they locate known and unknown information to help decide how closely they need to read particular sections of text

Add

students use metacomprehension: they briefly explain the new concepts or confirm and extend the known concepts students work with their information: they may reproduce the map from memory, reorganize the information, summarize the information in a paragraph,...

Note

In the caption below one of the photographs in the chapter (page 6), students were asked to consider the negative effects of interaction between people and their environment. Students might take their notes about that one geographic theme and reorganize them using the following organizer:
